French Oak Barrels

Our small French oak barrels use selected premium French oak from Central France. Staves are air-dried for 24 months. Hand crafted by skilled French coopers in traditional method. Sweet, toasted almond and carmel flavors are result of air-dried oak toasted on open fire. No greenwood or aggressive oak overtones associated with small barrels made of American kilndried, non-toasted barrels.

Red Star Wine Yeast

#3009 Red Star Montrachet
#3010 Red Star Pasteur Champagne
#3011 Red Star Premier Cuvee
#4515 Red Star Superfood

A complete yeast nutrient, contains yeast hulls, yeast extract, vitamins & minerals. Use 1/2 oz. per 5 - 6 gallon.
Montrachet - strong fermenter, good ethanol tolerance. Ferments to dryness, recommended for full bodied reds & whites. Ferments between 59 to 86 F.

Pasteur Champagne - strong fermenter to dryness with good ethanol tolerance. Good tolerance to free sulfur dioxide, recommended for all white wines, some reds, and fruit wine. Ferments best between 59 - 86 F.

Premier Cuvee - French wine yeast, good tolerance to ethanol & free sulfur dioxide, ferments to dryness. Low producer of foam, urea & fusel oils, recommended for reds, whites and especially champagne. Ferments between 45 - 95 F.

K1V-1116 - rapid starter, low foam production, best ferments at 59 - 86 F. Express freshness & aroma of white grape juice. Tolerates low nutrient musts and high SO₂ or sugar. Restart stuck fermentation.

EC-1118 - very low production of foam, volatile acid, ferments well between 45 to 95 F. High alcohol tolerance, good flocculation with neutral flavor and aroma.

71B-1122 - ferments best between 59 - 86 F, can metabolize high amount of malic acid and great for juice high in acid. Preferred by winemakers for young wines, blush and sweet white wines.

ICV D-47 - a low-foaming quick fermenter which enhances mouthfeel due to complex carbohydrates. Recommended for Chardonnay, Rose and Mead. Best ferment 50 - 86 F.

RC 212 - a Burgundy strain, low-foaming, moderate speed fermenter, at 59 - 86 F. Low producer of hydrogen sulfide, and sulphur dioxide with good alcohol tolerance. Recommended for reds, with aromas of ripe berry, pepper and spicy notes.
